

Raleigh, NC

IV(08:15)
F(14:15)

Dec. 16, 1811

American Statesman & Columbian
Jan. 7, 1812

Raleigh (N.C.) - Dec 20 - On Monday Morning several slight earthquakes were noticed in this city. The first, which was sensibly felt by all who were awake at the time, happened between 2 and 3 o'clock. Two others took place about 7 o'clock, but were not so distinctly felt, except by some of the members of the Assembly who were in the statehouse, and were considerably alarmed by the shaking of the building.